Alternate Title:	Millet Newspaper Collection
Dates:	1909-2017
Phys. Desc.:	5.71 meters of textual records. – 13.5 cm of microfilm.
Bio/Admin History:	The Millet Historical Society Newspaper Collection began in 1997 with the processing and description of the Tellim News Newspaper and the Millet Media Newspaper into a single collection. Further accruals of various newspapers from the Town of Millet and surrounding area have been added to the collection to document the published record of the County.
Scope / Content:	This Collection consists of newspapers published in Millet and the surrounding county. It also includes occasional reports released by village council that were distributed with the newspaper.
Custodial History:	Materials have been received from a variety of sources, including the Alberta Legislative Library, The individual publishers, the Millet Library and various individual donors.
Arrangement Note:	The Newspaper Collection was originally created in 1997, combining the Tellim News and Millet Media into a single collection. In 2006 several accruals to the newspaper collection had all newspapers processed into individual fonds divided by the organizations administrative history. In 2017 further accruals were processed and the decision was made to re-combine all the newspapers into a single collection well maintaining each publication as a separate series to encourage ease of access and link newspaper volumes received from different donors.

Title:	The Millet Bulletin fonds
Phys. Desc.:	14 cm of textual records. – oversize box 53 cm of shelf space. – 4 cm of microfilm
Bio/Admin History:	The Millet Bulletin was a weekly publication, issued on Thursdays initially for a subscription of $2, by Publisher T.W. Pue. The paper contained advertising and local news items and eventually also contained “plate” from other newspapers. The paper published from October 1946 to August 1949. The numbering of the issues was sometimes inaccurate and the day of publication changed from time to time. In June 1947 Pue moved the printing operation to Killam and started another weekly there. In July 1948 another move was made, this time to Edmonton and the format was reduced to a smaller size tabloid. The format was again increased with the first issue in the fourth volume published in 1949.
Custodial History:	The material was donated to the Millet and District Historical Society by the Legislative Library in 2006.
Scope/ Content: volume	The fonds consists of hard copies of the newspaper from volume 1, number 1 to 4, number 34 issued in August 1949. There are some missing issues.

Title:	Tellim News
Dates:	1971-1991
Phys. Desc.:	107 cm of textual records
Bio/Admin History:	The Tellim News was started as Millet News in 1971 by Dorothy Trathen. It published as Millet News for 2 editions, then adopted the name Tellim News. The newspaper published bi-weekly from 1971 to 1984, with breaks in the summer and Christmas seasons. The newspaper was continued as the Millet Tellim News on April 11, 1985 and continued to publish under the new name until 1989. Editions 1-11 were published first, then continued the edition numbers of the Tellim News with 330-431. Publishers of Millet Tellim News included Lori Kjorlien (1-11), Laurence &amp; Valerie Alcock (330-332), Laurence Alcock (332-352), Grace Babwik (353-363), Ken Hunter (364-398), and Sandra Fox (399-431). When Sandra Fox took over in 1989 the name was changed to the Millet &amp; County Tellim and continued from December 19, 1989 to May 28, 1991. Publication ceased with issue 466 on May 28, 1991.
Scope / Content:	The fonds consists of copies of the publication called the Millet News, Tellim News, Millet Tellim News, and the Millet &amp; County Tellim from January 1971 to May 28, 1991. There is a complete duplicate set of the Millet News and Tellim News available for research purposes.

Title:	The Millet Media fonds
Dates:	1991 – 1996
Phys. Desc.:	4 cm of textual records
Bio/Admin History:	Begun as an advertising flyer the Millet Media was a joint venture of husband and wife team Michael Booth and Chris Booth. Chris has worked previously as an assistant to Al Hegge at the Tellim News during the early 1970s and with Linda Kidd in the 1980s. With Michael as published and Chris as editor the first issue came out in September, 1991 and offered a $12 yearly subscription. They published local information and advertised for local businesses but were unable to run much of a profit and early in 1996 began to look for a new buyer. The last issue was published on Feb. 10, 1996. A one-page advertising flyer retrospectively called The Millet Packet was produced by the Millet Media on April 15, 1996.
Scope / Content:	The fonds consists of copies of the publication called the Millet Media from September 4, 1991 to February 10, 1996. There is also one copy of a single page flyer entitled "the Millet Packet" printed in April 1996.
